From the Farm

When you think rice, think local and sustainable!

Every year, 18 billion pounds of rice are grown by farmers in Arkansas, California, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, and Texas — accounting for nearly 85% of the rice Americans eat.

Fun Fact:

Rice fields are home to many wildlife species of birds, mammals, and reptiles.